"Curtis" Websites and Databases

(Updated July 2014)

The Curtis/s Family Society is not responsible for the information contained on the below websites. Many of the family specific sites have not been updated in recent years. Subsequent study and research may have rendered the information as outdated and/or in error.

Massachusetts Vital Records by Surname

This website makes it very easy to search the Massachusetts town Vital Records (up to 1849) by surname, county or town. Each entry has a hyperlink to the Vital Record image. Not all towns or counties (such as Plymouth) are included but it is a great resource – all on one website.

Access Genealogy – Connecticut

AccessGenealogy is a free website for family researchers. I've included the Connecticut segment here as an example of what is available. Look on the right side of the home page under United States Genealogy and pick your state of interest. Looks like a great resource. Enjoy?

Ohio Genealogy Express

Ohio Genealogy Express is a private website dedicated to free access to genealogy files – in this case – those in Ohio by county. Choose the county of interest from the list on the left side of the home page.

Online Searchable Death Indexes and Records

This website is a great researcher's resource and it's free! Search available death indexes and records by state. Choose your state of interest and get cracking! Have fun with this one.

Field, Wagoner, Hoover & Curtis Genealogy

This website contains information on the families of the Curtis/s Family Society's DNA Project Coordinator, Al Field. In addition to Al's other family surnames, it contains over 8400 Curtis names, descendants of several distinct Curtis families who came to America in the late 17th and 18th centuries. These families are often characterized as "New Jersey and Southern

Curtises," being distinct from and unrelated to the more numerous and better-documented New England Curtis families."

Find A Grave

Find A Grave is a resource for finding the final resting place of family, friends, and 'famous' individuals. With millions of names and photos, it is an invaluable tool for the genealogist and family history buff. Find A Grave memorials can contain rich content including photos, biographies and dates. Visitors can leave 'virtual flowers' on the memorials they visit, completing the online cemetery experience. Its primary purpose is a graves registration website; secondary purpose is a memorialization/remembrance site; and its tertiary purpose is a genealogical resource.

Curtis Memorial Library, Brunswick, Maine

The Captain John Curtis Memorial Library was dedicated on December 8, 1904, when William John Curtis (b. 1854) personally presented the library, named in honor of his father, to the town of Brunswick. The website contains Curtis family materials such as the ancestry of Harold E. Curtis and the first three and four generations of the William John Curtis family. The origins of this family are not known at this time but research is currently ongoing.
